Dallas Independent School District (Dallas ISD) is not a tax-exempt entity under the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Code Section 501(c)(3). However, according to the IRS Code Section 170(c), Dallas ISD may receive tax-deductible charitable contributions if the contributions are made solely for public purposes, such as benefiting a group and not an individual. This IRS code also states that a charitable contribution is any donation or gift to, or for the use of, a qualified organization. Dallas ISD falls within the IRS definition of a qualified organization as it is a public school district and is a political subdivision of the State of Texas.

Contributions may be made to Dallas ISD, Dallas ISD schools or departments, and various district groups and clubs. The district's tax-exempt status does not apply to the various parent or community organizations, such as PTAs and Booster Clubs, which support Dallas ISD schools and students.
